

Petit Sénéjac Haut-Médoc

The Sénéjac vineyard extends over a plateau which dominates the commune of Pian Médoc. Former barony, Nicolas de Bloys was its first owner in the 16th century. In 1999, a new impetus, to raise the vineyard to the height of the best Médoc wines, was given since its acquisition by Lorraine Cordier, also owner of Château Talbot, Grand Cru Classé de Saint Julien. Following his death, today it is his sister Nancy Bignon-Cordier and her family who are at the head of the estate

The second wine of Château Sénéjac is available in three labels, distributed exclusively by three of our partner merchants. This wine comes from the estate's young vines as well as carefully selected plots.

A true showcase of Château Sénéjac, it presents a gourmet nose with notes of red and black fruits. On the palate, a fine tannic structure perfectly balances the whole. We also detect aromas of cocoa with a finely toasted character which underline the quality of the breeding.

It is a sapid wine which is best enjoyed in its youth but which can be aged for several years.
