

Presentation Château de Rouillac was a delicious wine in the 19th century that Napoleon III loved! It then belonged to Baron Haussmann, a great builder and horseman who had the magnificent Chartreuse and its beautiful stables built. Laurent Cisneros and his family, owners since 2010, have undertaken major work and rediscovered the soul of this superb estate, restoring full expression to its exceptional Graves terroir. In order to respect this unique environment, this wine is designed using sustainable agriculture.

The Dada of ROUILLAC White

Being Dada is above all being passionate. Laurent Cisneros combines the world of wine and the world of horses through his two great passions which he shares in particular with his daughter Mélanie during national show jumping competitions.

A wine which is more marked by Sauvignon. The nose is fruity (especially citrus fruits, lemon), flowery, slightly woody and evokes typical notes of Sauvignon (eucalyptus, lime). The palate is fresh, mineral, round, dynamic, slightly woody and expresses notes of citrus (lemon) and more lightly white fruits. Precision and elegance in the fruit. Nice length and persistence on the finish
